DR. TALMAGE DENOUNCES THE WICKED DANCES.

They Are, He Says, the Avenues of Lust

BROOKLYN, Sept. 30, 1894.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still absent on his round-the-world tour, has selected as the subject of to-day's sermon, through the press: "The Quick Feet," the text chosen being Matthew 14: vi: "When Herod's birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod."

It is the anniversary of Herod's birthday. The palace is lighted. The highways leading thereto are all ablaze with the pomp of invited guests. Lords, captains, merchant princes, the mighty men of the land are coming to mingle in the festivities. The table is spread with all the luxuries that royal purveyors can gather. The guests, white robed and anointed and perfumed come in and ait at the table. Music! The jests evoke roars of laughter. Riddles are propounded Repartee is indulged. Tousts are drank. The brain is befogged. The wit rolls on into uproar and blasphemy. They are not satisfled yet. Turn on more light. Pour out more wine. Music! Sound all the trumpets. Clear the floor for a dance. Bring in Salome, the beautiful and accomplished princess. The door opens and in bounds the dancer. The lords are enchanted. Stand back and make room for the brilleant gyrations. These men never saw such "poetry of metion." Their souls whirl in the reel and bourd with the bounding feet Herod forgets crown and throne and everything but the fascinations of Salome. All the magnificence of his realm is as nothing compared with the splendor that whirls on tiptoe before him. His body sways from side to side, corresponding with the motions of the enchantress. His soul is thrilled with the pulsations of the feet and bewitched with the taking postures and attitudes more and more amazing. After a while he sits in enchanted silence looking at the flashing, leaping, bounding beauty, and as the dance closes and the tinkling cymbals cease to clap and the thunders of applause that shook the palace begin to abate, the enchanted monarch swears to the princely performer: "Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me I will give it thee, to the half of my kingdom" time a minister of the gospel by the name of John the Baptist, and he had been making a great deal of trouble king and brought down upon him the wrath of the females of the royal the extravagant promise of the king and says, "Bring me the head of John the Baptist on a dinner plate." Hark to the sound of feet outside the door and the clatter of swords. The executioners are returning from their awful errand. Open the door. ter to Salome. What is on this platter? A new glass of wine to continue the uproarious merriment? THE NAMES OF CITIES.

The word Minneapolis is a compound of an Indian word meaning curling water and a Greek word meaning city. Pittabucg was originally called Fort Du Quesne, then became Fort Pitt, in honor of the great British premier.

Chicago was named from the Chicago river, which in turn took its name from an Indian word meaning place of the wild leek or polecat plant. St. Louis was named from Louis

IX. of France. The name was orig-station by Pierre Laclede Lignest Detroit took its name from the river, which was called by the French De Troit, the narrows. The settlement was originally called Fort Pontchar-

Albany is named from the second title of the duke of York, afterward James II. The title is Scottish, from the Celtic word Albyn, a native name for Scotland.

New York was named from the first title of the duke of York, afterward James II., who took the city from the Dutch in 1664. The Dutch called it New Amsterdam.

Boston was originally named Tremont, or Trimountain. from being built on three hills-Beacon, Kopp and Fort hills. In 1630 the court of Charleston ordered the name changed to Boston.

Cincinnati was originally called Losantiville. The present name was given by General St. Clair as a reminder of the Cincinnati society, an association of the officers of the revolutionary war.

General Francis Nash of the revolutionary army gave a name to Nushville, Tenn. It was first called Nashborough, which was objected to an account of being bard to spall. Nameton was suggested, but Nashville finally accepted in 1784. Baton Rouge, La., was named from the fact that for many years after the town was established a gigantic cygrew on the site. The name means red stick, and was bestowed by the
